

removal!net
the on-line removalists

Since going “on-line” over a decade ago we’ve successfully moved thousands of individuals, families and business’ across Australia.

Get moving with Removal.net
Wherever you are moving from or to in Australia you can rely on Removal.net’s team of experienced furniture removalists and office support staff to save you time, money and stress on your next move.

A nationwide network of furniture removalists

We have experienced furniture removalists loading between most major cities on a daily basis and regularly between most other areas in the country. With that sort of network of furniture removalists, we’re able to accept bookings with as little as 24 hours notice.

Affordable furniture removalists

We pride ourselves on our competitive pricing structure. Our low cost, mostly on-line, business model, help us to keep our prices amongst the best in the business whilst providing quality furniture removal services.

Removals of all shapes and sizes

No matter what size of furniture removal you require we’ve got the service to meet your needs and budget. From a single piece of furniture to an entire house, we’ve got your next move covered.

removal.net
the on-line removalists

Save time with our instant on-line quotes and bookings!

Our instant quote and booking service is available 24/7. Don't waste any more time calling around, get an instant quote today!

Our on-line furniture removal quote and booking service doesn't sleep, it's available to you 24-7 so that you can organise your move at your own pace, at a time that's convenient to you.

We've also prepared a host of articles about moving house with us and about furniture removals in general, so all the information you'll need is at your fingertips.

By organising your next furniture removal on-line you'll be able to see all the information we need for accurate quotes and to make your furniture removal run as smoothly as possible.

Getting quotes and bookings on-line means that you can update your details as many times as you like, instantly seeing what effects your changes have on price. This makes it much easier for you to decide what is and isn't worth taking.

Got questions? Like to speak to a real person?

If you need support our experienced consultants are waiting for your call.

We have made organising your furniture removal on-line as simple and efficient as possible but, at the end of the day, it's great to know that we've got a dedicated Australian based call centre with experienced moving consultants ready and waiting to field your questions and to help guide you through the process of organising your next furniture removal.

removal.net
the on-line removalists

We've got the furniture removal service to suit your needs and budget...

Our furniture removal services:

- Interstate and regional furniture removals
- Local furniture removals in some capitals
- Backload or direct trip rates available for interstate and regional furniture removals
- Interstate and regional car transport
- Prepacking services
- Furniture removal carton and packing supplies
- Storage and redelivery
- Flexible Transit Protection Options

More about us:

- Australian owned and operated
- We pickup and deliver 7 days a week
- Extended call centre operating hours
- Secure on-line payments

1800 812 333

Call us or go on-line for an instant quote!

